Dear Carl:

I write to express my appreciation for the work your security personnel did at the event last night at the Marriott Wardman Park. Although my role in the event was a relatively small one, I did rely on the individuals that you had posted near the main entrance. All of them were professional in their interaction with guests as they arrived: firm when asking their names and checking IDs, yet so polite that guests did not take offence. This made my job easier and I am grateful to them.

In particular, I appreciate the efforts of Jerome Bellamy, Corey Cross, Cedric Pittman, Stephen Richardson and Asley (I'm sorry I don't have his last name).

Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Anne Phelan
